

Examples of out of Parallel Leg Loops
(Due turning of the wrist in an "outwards" direction on front and back casts).

Typical tip track back and forth for this example. Tracking may alter typically with one direction (normally the back cast) exhibiting more curvature than the forward cast.

Sketches taken from photographs of casts to demonstrate that casts which may appear to have parallel legs when viewed from the side may have tracking errors in the horizontal plane due to wrist twisting.